

DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

Colleagues,

It is hard to believe the end of the semester will be here in a few short weeks. For many of you – perhaps all of you—this is the busiest time of the year. When it seems like you are overwhelmed with all we ask of you, please remember that your hard work this past academic year has made a difference for our students. You have lived the mission of helping students succeed.

It's also a bittersweet time. Students we've known for the last several years are graduating, some colleagues are leaving UNI to pursue new opportunities, and within our Division we look ahead to exciting changes. As we move forward, let me take a moment to thank you for your commitment to students and to their success.

Please take a moment to look through this information and catch up on news from around the Division.
