January 2013

Dear colleagues,

Spring term is underway, students are back on campus and the snow is flying! Here are some news updates that might interest you:

Sue Follon Exemplary Service Awards presented

The Sue Follon Exemplary Service Awards were presented to four Student Affairs employees at the annual Division recognition luncheon on January 10. Award recipients are nominated by their peers and exemplify high ideals for job performance and service to students. Each recipient has had a positive influence on students and co-workers. The award is named for Dr. Sue Follon, who served as vice president of the Division from 1985 until her death in 1998. Dr. Follon's leadership style was built on helping others develop their own gifts.

Congratulations to 2013 award winners Jo Loonan, Senior Associate Director of Admissions; Cathy Moore, Bakery & Commissary Manager, Department of Residence; Pam Creger, Secretary, Maucker Union, and Mark Rowe-Barth, Substance Abuse and Violence Intervention Services Coordinator, Wellness and Recreation Services.

Division IT staff moved to Registrar's Office

A small renovation project has been completed in the Office of the Registrar in Gilchrist Hall. In addition to adding needed workspace for Registrar's staff and expanding the student service area, space was developed to allow the Division's IT staff to be located together. Sam Barr, Mike Holmes, and Rachel Jones (along with student staff) are now located in the east end of the Registrar's Office. Their phone numbers and emails still remain the same. Thanks to everyone in the Registrar's Office for being understanding during the construction and for welcoming their new neighbors into their area.
